

Eugenie Mitchell of Lafayette: Cajun Charms and Cultural Treasures

Tuesday, Apr 23, 2024

Eugenie Mitchell, VP of Tourism Sales Lafayette Convention & Visitor Commission, paints a vivid picture of the city's cultural richness and natural beauty. From the unique Cajun and Creole heritage to the vibrant music scene pulsating through venues like the Blue Moon Saloon, Lafayette promises a sensory journey like no other. Mitchell highlights the significance of food in local culture, inviting visitors to savor the flavors of gumbo and boudin sausage. Additionally, Lafayette's outdoor offerings, including swamp tours and wildlife encounters, underscore the city's allure for adventurers and nature enthusiasts alike. Dive into Lafayette's enchanting world through Mitchell's captivating insights.

Learn more about Louisiana Travel

Facebook

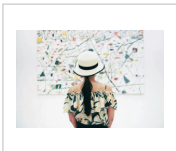

LinkedIn

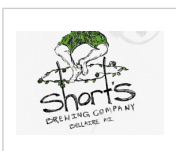

Twitter

The Year of the Great Recharge: Hilton Trends Report Reveals 'Rest and Relaxation' to be Top Driver of Travel Decisions Across Generations in 2024

Eurail on track towards future proof organisation

Pure Michigan and Short's Brewing Company Encourage Travelers to #HopIntoMichigan with Pure Michigan Autumn IPA